

The Call of God

Scripture Reading: Exodus 3:1 – 4:17

God appeared unto Moses in a burning bush and called him for a task. But Moses tries to avoid this heavenly mission by giving some cheap excuses. "God, I'm not a great man, the people will ask Your name, the people will not believe me, I can't even speak properly, so please send someone else", was his request. After much prolonging Moses surrendered himself to God's will and purpose.

In fact Moses was trained and knew all the 64 arts or skills that were taught in the palace of Pharaoh. Considering the days in which Moses lived, there was no skill which he didn't know.

According to the request of Moses, God sends Aaron to help him and speak for him. We have previously studied about the obedience of Abraham. As soon as God said Abraham to leave his land, he left without any doubts or questions. As soon as God asked Abraham to sacrifice his son, he left immediately to obey. But Moses was not like that.

Whose obedience is greater? Like whom would you like to respond when God calls you towards the purpose of your life? What else is more important than surrendering ourselves to the will of God? To fulfill the purpose of God should be our desire and prayer. God created us to fulfill His purpose over our life.

Questions:

- 1) How many skills did Moses know?
- 2) Whose obedience was greater?
- 3) Why did God create us?
