

Pleasant Words

Scripture Reading: Proverbs 16:20-24; 12:17-19

Words are a very important part of our daily life. Words are a kind of sound. But these sound blend together and gives us a meaning or an understanding regarding something. Every word that we speak is revealing to others who we are.

When we make a mistake while writing with a pencil, it can be erased with an eraser. But it cannot be done likewise to the words we speak. Our words can build others or pull them down, therefore speak words that build. We are slaves to the words that we speak. We are masters to the unspoken words. Who are you? What do you desire to be? A slave or a master?

Morning hours we say "Good Morning?" and evening hours we say "Good Evening". When we want something from others it is good to use the word "please". It is good to say a "Thanks" when we are helped by others or when we receive something from them. When we say a "sorry" if we have intentionally or unintentionally hurt others, it will bring joy in that place.

"Please", "Sorry" and "thanks" can be considered as pleasant words. Not just that, they are also the golden words which are very much required in our life. These words will bring joy in our life and will also help us to gain good friends. It will help to sustain joy continuously in our homes.

Pleasant words can be likened to the character God. They are pleasant to the heart and a medicine to our soul. These words will make you a favorable person among many. From this day forth, use your words to build others.

Questions:

1. What are pleasant words compared to?
2. What are the golden words that are very much required in our life?
3. Who are you gonna be?